

Chairman's Report - Sarah Leadbetter

A year with no plays gives me very little to talk about alas. I am personally grateful for the unerring positivity of Len Skilton and Robert Naylor-Stables who have kept us all going with excellent newsletters and a gritty determination to put on 'Faith Healer' come hell or high water.

Poems and Pints and Bruce King's excellent quiz night have been other lights in the darkness. I would also like to personally pay tribute to Pat Hughes who sadly passed away this year. Pat was inspirational to me and always delightful to everyone in the society. Unfortunately her golden WDS years were before my time. However, she made many charming and insightful comments about my own contributions on stage. She will be sadly missed. And so concluding, all I can do is extoll our intrepid WDS Membership to stride 'once more into the breach' and 'stiffen the sinews' for our October performance!
